
No system is more secure than a

If you have vital information that needs to be protected, then a Classified PC is for you. Our computers are engineered with a fortified Windows XP Professional operating system and state-of-the-art hardware based cryptographic technology utilizing the government approved Advanced Encryption Standard (AES) algorithm. These unique security features make the Classified PC the most secure system available on the market today.

For more information, please visit www.classifiedpc.com.
